The individual United States are listed individually. All other countries/localities are listed by continent or geological location (i.e. Oceania). Central America & the Caribbean, while not continents are listed separately. Middle Eastern countries/regions are listed under Asia. Countries within continents are bold faced. Items like mountain ranges, rivers, etc. that pass through many individual states or countries are listed separately where they fall alphabetically. If a town was listed without a state or country and that place was not easily identifiable in the context of the story or record it is listed separately alphabetically. Places are listed as shown in the newsletter article. If there is a misspelling and the correct spelling was easily found it is shown in parenthesis. When a county is indicated in the context the word (County) is shown in parenthesis. I have also included places of historical interest as well as colleges and universities.
